

The background of the cover is a soft, painterly illustration of a landscape. In the foreground, a young girl with dark hair in pigtails, wearing a blue sailor-style dress and black shoes, is lying on her back in a lush green field, smiling with her hands behind her head. To the right, a portion of a brick building with windows and a utility box is visible. The background features rolling green hills and a hazy, blue-toned sky with faint mountain silhouettes. Small details like a red dragonfly and butterflies are scattered throughout the scene.
